

Dow Corning® Grooming Solutions for Animal Care

Now the unique hair care benefits you enjoy are appropriate for the grooming needs of cats, dogs and horses.

Dow Corning silicones are the sought after ingredient in beauty and personal care products. For decades, we have been helping the world's most prominent manufacturers formulate with silicones for unique sensory benefits that allow them to differentiate their products from the competition, meet consumers demands and — most importantly — capture value.

Now, when you formulate with Dow Corning performance enhancing materials, you can market similar claims in animal grooming products, such as:

- Superior detangling
- Ultra shine
- Ultra soft feel
- Significantly reduced drying time
- Protection (SPF enhancement, moisturization)
- Low odor or improved fragrance retention

Dow Corning solutions for animal grooming products are also formulator-friendly. Our innovative technologies and performance enhancing materials come in a wide range of choices, including:

- Volatile silicones for faster dry times (see data below) and transient conditioning
- Amine functional silicones for deep conditioning and effective detangling from shampoos and conditioners, both rinse-off and leave-on
- Phenyl functional silicones for ultra shine
- Specialty Emulsions
